Art Making: Watercolors

This summer Princeton Art Museum is again partnering with the Arts Council of Princeton for free online watercolor classes, held Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. (EDT). Online classes are taught over Zoom by artist-instructor Barbara DiLorenzo. With an emphasis on color mixing and brushwork, each week's lesson will be inspired by works in the Museum's collections. All programs are live closed captioned in Spanish and English. Full schedule: HERE.
